

Motherhood Moments #2

Sometimes motherhood looks like this...

Adah absolutely could not wait for me to get her homeschooling supplies ready for the day and promptly sat down and began devouring anything presented to her. In the meantime, Sol was anxious for playtime, so I handed him a pile of toys which he immediately spread out like a hot pancake breakfast.

It was a messy moment but one filled with happy kids!