

Valentine's Day Party

This year I decided to host a children's cookie decorating party to celebrate the holiday. And I must say, it was successful! We had over a dozen children here all decorating with icing, sprinkles, and tiny candies. After loading up on lots of sugar, the children took to the yard and played kick ball, colored with chalk, and finally played with a bucket of cold water and bubbles. After the kids went home and the party was cleaned up, our little family sat down together to open our Valentine's Day gifts from Kevin's parents. It was so nice to celebrate this holiday together as a family and with our beloved friends. Here are a few photos for your viewing pleasure:
