

Motherhood Moments #8

Sometimes motherhood looks like this...

A trip to the grocery store can turn into an episode of "Fear Factor." Adah's expression is one of sheer joy because the electricity just came back on! Nothing like grocery shopping in the dark to make your toddler want to sit securely in the cart so she can feel encompassed. Solomon is safely strapped to my back in the carrier. Luckily I try not to leave the house without my phone, which has a flashlight.
